

Convert your Web Visitors into Sales Leads. Enable them to Call you FREE Just at a Click

Do you wish to receive many more leads/enquiries from visitors to your website? If so, please read on..

• Let your Web Visitor Call you just at a Click: Click to Calls are superior to simply having your phone number posted on your website.

Most Websites have a 'Contact us' page with a phone number, feedback form and/or an email ID provided. However, website visitors hesitate in using this because of the perception that emails and feedback forms invariably go into an 'electronic black-hole' with poor or delayed responses. They are also unsure of dialing the board telephone number, wondering if the operator would be able to put them through to the right person, or if they may need to spend a good amount of time being on-hold or answering queries on the purpose of the call before being connected to the right person.

Even if they decide to contact you, they are likely to have other priorities as well on their mind and so will note down the telephone number for calling later. Once postponed, a good portion of them would end-up not contacting you. Whatever the reason, you miss out on leads from prospects who actually thought of enquiring with you.

ClickCall.in service allows your website visitor to get in touch with you 'as soon as the thought occurs'. It provides a widget that is loaded on your website where the visitor enters his phone number. Click-to-Call then instantly connects a voice call between him and the website's sales person. The convenience of contacting the right person, and instantly, tends to make you receive many more enquiries from your website visitors. And the call charges to you are on a pay-as-you use model.
